

Ask the Authors, Part IV

Q: So... what's with the new layout?

Andrew: I have no idea!

Ryan: I felt it was time to change the site layout and make some new pages, since things have changed a bit since the days of the movie parodies.

Andrew: Boring!

Q: Why have you been writing so little lately?

Andrew: Actually, I have been writing. A lot. It just so happens that none of it is on the site. You can find the-

Ryan: Stop shamelessly promoting your fanfics.

Andrew: Just for that, I'm going to start another pointless crossover.

Q: Are those site stats real? I think you tampered with them.

Ryan: No, they're genuine.

Andrew: I don't think so. I mean, according to that info you found, we're, like, the most popular Star Wars parody site in Brazil. And I don't even speak Brazilian.

Ryan: They speak Portuguese.

Andrew: Ha! You're so stupid. Portuguese people speak Portuguese. What are you going to say next - that we're not speaking American?

Q: So, uh... when are you going to start writing more?

Andrew: I don't know! Right now the fanfic I'm working on is well over 20,000 words and I'm not even halfway done. Still, I'll try to get stuff done every now and then.

Ryan: Isn't it ironic that we have more time for the site now that we're back at school?

Andrew: That might have something to do with the fact that during the summer I slept until noon on a regular basis.

Q: Have you completely run out of ideas?

Ryan: I think this one's directed at you.

Andrew: Shut up.

Ryan: No, really. I want to see you answer this.

Andrew: Well, you see, I suffer from something known as Writers' ADHD. I have too many ideas, and thus am unable to concentrate on a single one long enough to make any progress. I have ideas for a parody of the entire Star Wars EU, a reboot of The Empire's Finest, a sequel to Dooku and Pals the Movie, and a bunch of stuff unrelated to the site.

Q: You're not going to get anything done, are you?

Andrew: Nope!

Q: What's the deal with parts 11 and 12 of A New Doom?

Andrew: You'll have to wait and see.

Ryan: It doesn't help that you're making things up as you go along.

Andrew: No, no... I have a plan for this.

Ryan: That's even worse. Just please tell me that you're going to keep the crossover restricted to Zim and Star Wars.

Andrew: I cannot, in good faith, make that promise.

Gannon: Hey, guys! Can I talk about my ideas?

Andrew: Uh... where did you come from?

Gannon: This is "Ask the Authors." And since I wrote one installment of Orchestrated Chaos, technically I'm an author for this site.

Ryan: All right. What's your idea?

Gannon: Evil Spock tries to destroy the universe and everybody has to stop him!

Andrew: I love it.

Ryan: Andrew, please tell me you're not going to start working on this idea.

Gannon: It'll be great. The village from Animal Crossing will get burned down by Resetti in a murderous rampage, there'll be a Supernatural/X-Files crossover, and-

Andrew: Stop.

Gannon: What?

Andrew: Don't say more. I'm going to write this right now.

Ryan: No! I forbid you from starting yet another project!

Andrew: Too late. Isn't that right, Mirror Universe Picard?

Picard: F***ers!

Ryan: What?

Q: What's going on?

Ryan: Now do you see why I don't let Andrew make changes to the site anymore?
