

Legacy of the Force: Recollections

Betrayal

Jacen: I'm in a factory!

Ben: Look, there's a bunch of illegal stuff behind this wall!

Jacen: Good job, Ben.

Back on Coruscant:

Wedge: I'm in this book because Aaron Allston's the author. Also, I'm being kidnapped or something.

Leia: A bunch of stuff is happening with Corellia.

Andrew: I don't care.

Leia: We tried to kidnap someone, because kidnapping people always makes things better.

Andrew: I don't care.

Ben: There's a robotic clone of Anakin Solo or something.

Andrew: I don't care.

Leia: Han shot first.

Andrew: That ship has sailed.

Robo-Anakin: I've lost the will to live.

Ben: Because you know you'll never be the real Anakin Solo?

Robo-Anakin: Because I've read ahead and know how this series is going to end.

Meanwhile, somewhere that's not Corellia:

Luke: Hi, Pellaeon.

Pellaeon: Hi, Luke.

Luke: Why exactly are you the supreme commander of the GA military?

Pellaeon: I don't know.

Lumiya: I'm killing all your negotiators!

Luke: No! Our meeting is ruined! This makes me sad!

Commandos: We're on drugs!

Pellaeon: I knew I shouldn't have hired hippies to guard the diplomats.

Luke: This piece of cloth is a clue!

Pellaeon: Quick – contact Mystery, Inc!

Meanwhile, on a giant rock:

Lumiya: Sith aren't really evil.

Jacen: Yes they are.

Lumiya: Fine. If I tell you a completely unconvincing story about some random guy who probably didn't even exist, will you believe me?

Jacen: Maybe.

Ben: Help! I'm being attacked by a ghost!

Jacen: You die now, Nelani!

Meanwhile, on Corellia:

Klauskin: My dead wife talks to me.

Random GA Guy: What?

Klauskin: She tells me to burn things!

Random GA Guy: We should probably get you a psychologist or something.

Klauskin: It can wait until after the battle.

Random GA Guy: OK.

The Millennium Falcon flies through a building and a bunch of missiles hit a shield and stuff blows up.

Klauskin: We should probably get out of here. But don't worry, honey – we'll get them next time!

Random GA Guy: O...K...
